

Occupational Health & Safety

The committee met on January 16, 17 and February 6 & 7 /17.

The committee has been working on the OHS conference planned for April 27 & 28 /17. The Day of Mourning will be incorporated into the conference, as well as the Ralyn Sumlak award. If you know of any OHS activist within your site, chapter or local, please fill out the nomination form. We need to recognize our safety advocates as they play a very important role in your safety on the worksite.

The bullets that have been coming out bi-monthly have also been done. The committee has prepared two more to be published on the website.

The OHS liaison role and responsibility is also being looked at. The committee is developing terms of reference to go along with this role, as it is felt that it is still not clearly defined.

In March, Randy James will be attending and doing a Personal Safety demonstration for the committee.

In Safety

Judy Fader